

Chris Bergquist Fulmer

Biographical Statement

Chris Fulmer is a graduate of North Texas State University (MA in art history), Trinity University (BA in art and English), and the University of Texas at Austin (BFA in Art Education). She also has accumulated a substantial amount of graduate studio hours from Texas Tech University.

She is a professor of art at North Lake College, Irving, Texas. Past experiences include: consultant for Binney & Smith, public school art educator, art instructor for The Art Annex (Coppell, Texas), and curriculum development for Laguna Gloria Museum (Austin, Texas).

As an artist, Chris creates mixed media work on paper and panel. Often including three-dimensional objects and areas of texture, she executes thematic works dealing with literature, symbolism, or personal experiences. Her award winning work has appeared both nationally and locally in a variety of shows and juried exhibitions. Her work is also included in corporate and commercial collections, including Texas Instruments, Falling Rock Resort, The Woodlands Convention Center, and the DFW Executive Center. Her writing and illustrations have been published by The Austin American-Statesman, The Dallas Morning News, North Lake College's Gateways, The Irving News' ARTimes, What Canst Thou Say, and Artist's Magazine. A thirty minute documentary was produced and televised by Irving Community Television Network.

Most recently her work has been on exhibition at 500X, The McKinney Avenue Contemporary Gallery, 14th Street Gallery (Plano, Texas), Ft. Worth Community Arts Center, The Art Corridor (Tarrant County College Southeast), Texas Tech University's International Affairs Gallery, The University of Dallas's Haggerty Gallery, The Gallery at the Guadalupe Arts Center (Austin, Texas), The Center for Spirituality in the Arts (Incarnate Word, San Antonio), The Laredo Arts Center, The ArtCentre of Plano, The Warehouse Living Arts Center (Corsicana, Texas), San Jacinto Tower, Coppell Arts Center, Unit Instruments, The Bath House Cultural Center, Irving Art Association Center for the Arts, North Lake College, Dallas Visual Arts Center, The Art Annex of Coppell, Mountain View College, The Dallas City Hall, The Bill J. Priest Center, Mountain View College, and Irving Arts Center.

Her work is represented at Carson Arts in Dallas, Texas [1710 Hi Line Drive, Dallas TX 75207, (214) 747-3055].